LIKE YESTERDAY

(B.Fontana)

I ran a thousand miles to get back to you
Wondering what the new day will bring to you
And what do you say?

Sharing thoughts of distant feelings to get through
Like a busy signal search the net for you
And will you wait?

So ...
Hear me calling you ... I'm on my way ...
Listening to the distant echoes ... like the memories of yesterday

Sharing the lost attic of emotions with you
Some should be forgotten, some should be kept for you
And why would you stay?

I can see so clearly that new vision of you
Some things remain unsaid, some need a new flame
And why should it burn?

So ...
Hear me calling you ... I'm on my way ...
Listening to the distant echoes ... like the memories of yesterday
