EMPTY PROMISES

(B.Fontana)

You never seem to have to find the time to tell me how you feel
Now it is like we were, sharing broken dreams
You don't need what I want, you don't give just take
Now you seem so sad when giving me your promises

*Don't go giving me your promises of your empty heart
Don't you stare surprised when we fall apart ...
Don't go giving me your promises of your empty heart
Don't take me for a fool when we crash so hard ... your Empty Promises*

I have heard enough now, enough now of your lies
I do not want to fall again, fall again for your eyes
Everything has to stop now! I need my soul so clear
Empty promises are what you have, those things I don't wanna hear ...

*Don't go giving me your promises of your empty heart
Don't you stare surprised when we fall apart ...
Don't go giving me your promises of your empty heart
Don't take me for a fool when we crash so hard ... your Empty Promises*

... your Empty Promises ...
... your Empty Promises ...
