

REEL – « Dominion » (2008)

RIVERS OF DOUBT

Looking down on forgotten memories
Cast away like a lonesome song
Never wanting more than a dream
Looking like faded souls
More than a lifetime, floating in rivers of doubt
Everything turns to sorrow, fading away in the crowd ...

More than a picture, more than everything you need
Always turning away from what you see, drawing bridges over endless water
A kiss, more than a kiss, falling for it has broken
More than love, drowning in the Rivers of Doubt ...

Can't you see what I see, shown on the TV screen
Cities fall, peace fades away, like the music which puts you to sleep
Dancing on your dreams, stand for what you believe in ...
You want to live so peacefully, don't you fall into the deep!

Am I what I want? Am I an actor in a picture show?
Are you what you want? Always lost in the Rivers of Doubt

... In the Rivers of Doubt ...
... In the Rivers of Doubt ...